The Pine Cone in Esoteria

So, this ought to be addressed since there are a lot of misconceptions concerning the subject.

The Pillar of Osiris

Some misguided students of esoterica, trying to pass themselves off as masters, make blanket statements such as the Pine Cone was a symbol of ancient Egypt which is absolutely incorrect as the original (ancestral) Scepter of Osiris was Geb's Head of Lettuce (an obvious Phallic Fertility symbol as is the Ear of Corn) via his association to Min as a Fertility Deity as portrayed in a Cartouche of one of his many names (above) much as the Crook & Flail which he is most well known for and which would be considered his actual Heraldic Symbols and, therefore, Scepter, not to mention the other well known Sekhem Scepter (pictured further below).

Syria, 1300s BC

This is the oldest example of the Pine Cone Symbol that I have been able to find so far and it is from Syria and not Egypt or Sumer which are the two antediluvian civilizations of the Esoteric Golden Era.

By 1224 BC it was probably introduced to Egypt by the Sea Peoples around the end of the Bronze Age (Middle Assyrian Empire Period) who probably used Pine Extract as a Vitamin C source to prevent scurvy (as did the northern Native Americans) and, from Egypt, it went to the Neo Assyrians and Classical Greece and, from there, to Rome and the western world.

Neo-Assyrian Empire 911-605 BC

Where the Sea Peoples got the original idea from is open to debate but it also made its way to the Sumerians and India where it ended up in some of their Temples but this is all conjecture as the oldest Sumerian images don't show the Pine Cone in their Tree of Life images and the images from India date to 1200 AD and are actually Ears of Corn and not Pine Cones at all (see further below).

Angkor Wat, Cambodia, 12th Century BC

The ones from Cambodia, which these geniuses claim are Pine Cones are, in reality, Lotus Buds (Style Section of the article).

Aztec goddess of maize Chicomecoatl

When you want to find Pine Cones everywhere then you will (called Selective Eyesight) and most of these esoteric geniuses say those Ears of Maize in the hands of the goddess are, in fact, Pine Cones instead.

The confusion may be that Corn used to exist in predynastic Egypt and was used as an Esoteric Symbol but, after the flood, that was no longer the case and those ancient images were eventually mistakenly applied to the Pine Cone instead.

Then, with the discovery of the Americas, these esoteric idiots arrived and saw Ears of Corn everywhere and said, "Wow! Look at all those Pine Cones!"

Pine Cones were never an esoteric symbol in the ancient (antediluvian) world nor was it connected to the Pineal Gland regardless of certain health benefits of Pine Tree Bark, Needles and Pollen. This is more so obvious when you realize that the gland is only a third of an inch in size and hardly to be confused with a Pine Cone but could easily be described as being the same size and similar shape to a Kernal of Corn.

The Ear of Corn was used as an Esoteric Symbol and was, perhaps, associated with the Pineal Gland (and its activation) but not the way these geniuses think.

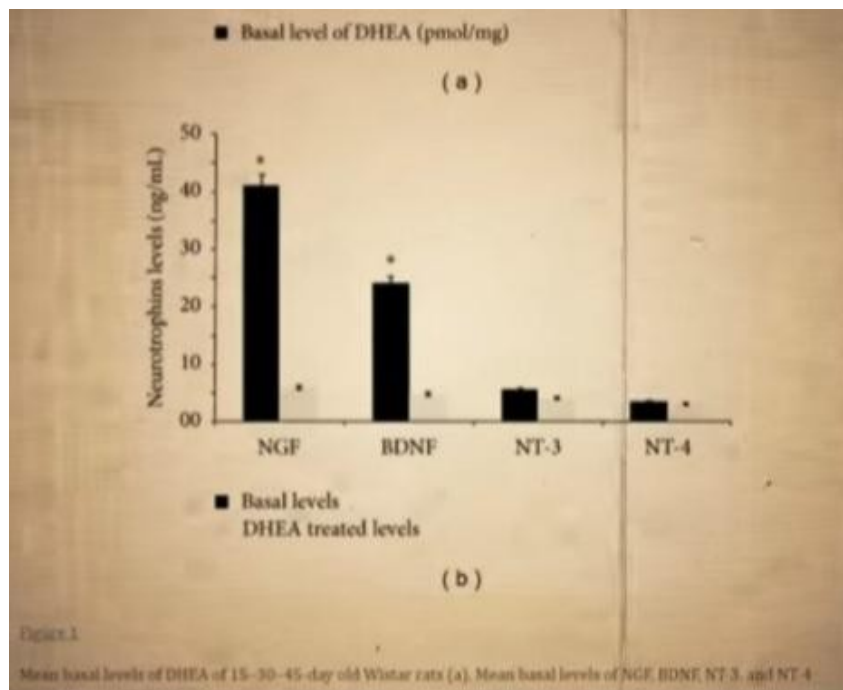

Hoysaleswara Temple, Halebidu, India, 12th Century

The first thing you notice about that picture is that Middle Finger and guess what that means? It meant the same thing then as it does today, according to Wikipedia, who credits the Greek (Sea People) for it and this is a very obvious esoteric statement that if you want to be illuminated (activate the Pineal Gland if you prefer) you must consume the Kernals of Sex, pure and simple, using the Ear of Corn as a phallic symbol complete with stalk, sheath, hairs, seed and oil.

This post is a result of watching a video on the health benefits of Pine Extract and Bark and Needles (link on image above) which, if you want to insist on it being an esoteric symbol anyways, means its benefits must be ingested to activate the pineal gland.

So much for Yoda's Yoga Party.

That's like a Toga Party but different.

That the benefits of Pine Extract, however, are not illuminative in nature (as is Neural Growth Factor Beta) is obvious for it does not contain any NGFs itself but merely stimulates the body to more readily produce its own NGFs which is assuredly true of other plant species and which the body does on its own anyways.

An interesting side note to this esoteric escapade is my time as a Governor Attendant at Comerford Station on the Connecticut River in 1988. That spring you could see the Pollen from all the Pine Trees (that surround the Dam for miles in all directions) billowing over the reservoir in the breeze and it was so prevalent that it looked like thick yellow paint floating on the surface of the water. I asked our Union Rep about it and he said this occurs about every seven years or so..

Well, being a lowly Governor Attendant, it was my sorry lot in life to Tag Out one of the Hydro Units every once and a while and clean the fucking thing and in the upper part of the unit (Oblique Elements section in the above image) the airflow was pretty strong and, invariably, that section of the turbine would get caked with all that pollen in, literally, brick like sections.

Well, being the studious nutritionist that I was, I already knew of the benefits of pollen and decided to be my own human guinea pig and proceeded to ingest a highly concentrated handful of that 'miraculous' (if you believe some of these geniuses) pollen to see if anything noticeable occurred.

Don't hold your breath.

Footnotes

- 1) Posted the very next day after I posted this Document. Take Times Zones into account and what do you get?
- 2) It is very possible that this is the Token or Sign of the Morning Star and that the only people who see the Eye of Ra are the new Pharaohs and High Priests who are the two Sons of Oil. That is to say those people whom Heh, on the other side of Infinity, possesses in order to view the world through their eyes.

It is not symptoms from someone who has had Laser Eye Surgery nor is it images transmitted via Intracranial Microwave Technology which are not visible.

It is not a result of ingesting Melatonin or resulting DeJa Vu, which I know for a fact because I took upwards of four times the recommended daily dosage of Melatonin and never once achieved any such phenomenon and only achieved Dejan Vu experiences a few times but they went off the charts with NGFB which not only contains Melatonin but also Serotonin so that you easily hit equilibrium between the two.

The only substance that has similar characteristics is Cannabis and that is because the male reproductive system has cannabis receptors and both affect the Thalamus Glands which is also where the Eyes are connected to the Brain and the Pineal Gland is right between them.

However, Cannabis does not contain NGF Beta which is the Element in question to build Neural Pathways in the brain and which is found in only one location in nature and that is in the Male Reproductive System.

And, it is not solely a result of ingesting NGFB or it would be a common phenomenon reported among the LGBT Community which it is not (try and Google it if you don't believe me) so must also be combined with some type of physiological connection such as Cannabis or Initiation or direct Physical Male Descent or some combination thereof.

When you know, you know...
